PRIVACY POLICY

Inventurus Knowledge Solutions Limited ('IKS Health')

Privacy Policy

This privacy statement is effective as of March 31, 2022. Please note that the privacy statement will regularly be updated to reflect any changes in the way we handle your personal data or any changes in applicable laws.

This page and its sub-pages showcase how Inventurus Knowledge Solutions Limited and/or its affiliates and subsidiaries (collectively “IKS”, “IKS Health”, “us”, “we”, or “our”) collect, use, store, and share the personal data we collect and/or process.

This privacy statement applies to all private information we gather, including data collected on our site and frameworks and some other sites (including mobile access) where this statement is linked to (all of which are collectively referred to as the “Sites” in this statement).

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Please read this privacy statement carefully.

BY USING OUR SITES, COMMUNICATING WITH US, AND/OR ENGAGING WITH OUR SERVICES, YOU REPRESENT THAT YOU HAVE READ AND YOU UNDERSTAND THIS PRIVACY STATEMENT.

Cookies

From time to time, our Sites may collect and share your information through the use of cookies, pixels, and related technologies for the purpose of identifying and authenticating users, preventing fraud, enhancing our Sites, and to tailor content to you.

Cookies are small data packets often including unique identifiers that web servers send to browsers. This way the site can track the user behaviour and preference online. While some cookies are temporary, others are permanent. Different types of cookies serve different purposes, such as functionality and target marketing / advertising.

Purpose Of Collecting Your Personal data

- Recruitment
- Facilitating communication
- Legal requirements
- Improving our business; for example - data collection as parts of surveys, data analytics, market research and/or other purposes.
- Social Listening
- Improving our Site, network and information security

Sharing Your Information

We may disclose personal information to third parties for various business purposes including and not limited to:

- We may share your information with third-party service providers that provide services to us, including billing, payment processing, customer service, email deployment, advertising and marketing, security and performance monitoring, maintaining or servicing accounts, processing or fulfilling orders and transactions, verifying customer information, research, data hosting, auditing, and data processing.
- To protect and defend the legal rights, safety, and security of IKS, our affiliates, users, or the public, including to protect against fraud and malicious activity.
- For other business purposes described in this privacy statement or for any other purpose disclosed to you at the time we collect the information or pursuant to your consent.

We may also share your information in connection with a substantial corporate transaction, such as the sale of a website, a merger, consolidation, asset sale, initial public offering, or in the unlikely event of a bankruptcy.

Children's Privacy

We do not knowingly solicit or collect personally identifiable information online from children under the age of 13 without prior verifiable parental consent. If IKS Health learns that a child under the age of 13 has submitted personally identifiable information online without parental consent, we will take all reasonable measures to delete such information from our databases and to not use such information for any purpose (except where necessary to protect the safety of the child or others as required or allowed by law).

Security

The security of your Personal Information is critical to us, however please be aware that no strategy for transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage, is 100 percent secure. While we endeavour to utilise financially adequate means to safeguard your Personal Information, we can't ensure its outright security.

If you have any questions about this privacy statement, please contact us at privacy@ikshealth.com
